STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS MADE AT WORLD POLICE SUMMIT

At the World Police Summit, 18 Memorandums of Understanding (MOUs) were signed by police, security and law enforcement agencies, private sector organisations, and government entities.

These partnerships aim to improve cooperation, enhance intelligence sharing, and leverage technology and best practices to address transnational crimes such as terrorism, cybercrime, and human trafficking. The MOUs represent a commitment by all parties to work together towards a safer and more secure world.
